FACULTY & STAFF

A Message from the President

Harold "Hal" Smith
President of Pikeville College

Eight years ago I was elected president of Pikeville College. I inherited a tremendous faculty and staff and a really neat group of students. I was blessed to become a part of the College's leadership team with an amazingly committed Board of Trustees.

Every semester there are things that stand out as being significant, and this year was special. Our students excelled in both academics and athletics. The Academic Team was first in state, winning the Kentucky Quick Recall League competition. Our lady bowlers achieved an unbelievable feat when their team won the national Intercollegiate Bowling Championship – the College's first national championship as a team. And, our new football team, after only five years of competition in the toughest league in the nation, achieved a remarkable 8-3 record.

These are just a few of the highlights. Along the way, there have been many more, some of which have been chronicled in the pages of this yearbook. My wife Karen and I love Pikeville College, the community and the region. We love the people – particularly the students. It's a special place. And, you are the reason, because you all make it such a special place.

Sincerely,
Harold H. Smith
President of Pikeville College

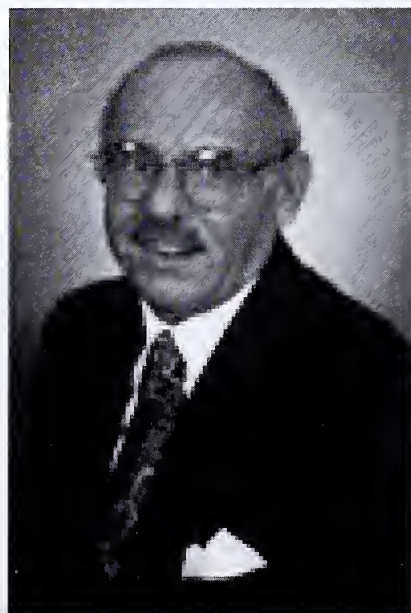

Medicine in the Mountains

The Pikeville College School of Osteopathic Medicine (PCSOM) is proudly committed to providing highly trained, competent, confident, and patient-friendly primary care osteopathic physicians. In July, we celebrated a milestone as our first class of physicians began opening medical practices, six of which were located in Pikeville.

Long before they graduate, our students embrace their commitment to helping others. Whether it's establishing a traveling health fair, volunteering in the community, or publishing a reference manual to promote osteopathic medicine, PCSOM is changing the face of health care. We are proud of our students and physicians. Their achievements reflect our mission and are making a significant and lasting impact on the quality of life in eastern Kentucky and the Appalachian region.

Sincerely,

Dr. John Strosnider, Vice President and Dean

Bear Bowling

2005 Season a great success

Below: Some of the PC men's bowlers lounge and have a good time after a tournament up in Dayton, Ohio. Craig Guldenschmih, Josh Harper, Cassidy Schaub, and Eric "Bunny" Daniels gather around the table.

The Bowling Bears started off the season with 16 returning players and high expectations. The team had six seniors who showed up this year with Nationals on their mind. There was only one newcomer to the experienced team.

The Bears were still searching for their first trip to Nationals and they met that high expectation, earning their first bid to that sought after tourney.

In the regular season, the Bowling Bears won three tournaments while not placing any lower than 10th place in the ten tournaments they bowled.

The regular season put the Bears ranked 6th in the nation going into Sectionals. The Bears did not let anything down at sectionals, coming away with the victory and their first bid to the National Tournament in Rockford, Illinois.

To the left is the Pikeville Men's Bowling team winning the sectionals to make to their first ever Nationals appearance.

PC Baseball 2005

The Baseball Bears are coached by former major leaguer Johnnie LeMaster. He played for the San Francisco Giants for thirteen years. He owns a chain of sporting good stores in Pikeville and Paintsville. He has a wife, two daughters and now four grandchildren. He is a member of the Paintsville Church of Christ.

The Year in Review

The 2005 season was a rebuilding year for the Baseball Bears. The team suffered in the 2004 season because of 13 players either injured or ineligible. The 2005 season, however, didn't turn out as good as the team had wished.

The Baseball Bears finished the 2005 season with a record of 21-31. They had hoped to finish above a 500%, but fell short by ten games.

It was a great year for several individuals, though. Freshman Jeff Stoll lead the team in homeruns with 10 before suffering an ankle sprain and being sidelined for the last third of the season. Stoll made First Team All Conference as well as Rafael Marcano.

Travis Hall and Joe Luli made Honorable Mention and Brenton Dials was the only Bear to make Academic All Conference.

The Bears got in the record books, however, when they played the longest game in NAIA baseball history. The first game of the Mid-South Conference tournament lasted 22 innings before the Bears lost to Lambuth University. The Bears were eliminated from the tournament in the second game against Lindsey Wilson.

The Bears are ready for next season and plan on making some noise in the post season.

2005 Baseball Seniors

Chad Roberts

Chad is a senior for the Bears in 2005. Chad is a resident of Pikeville and attended Pikeville High School. In his senior year, he made First Team All State, finishing 12-0.

He attended Georgetown College as a freshman but after several surgeries, he transferred to PC in 2000. A highlight from his career at PC was his First Team All Conference finish in 2003. He finished the year with a record of 7-3 with an ERA of 3.14.

He also made history when he pitched 15 of a 22-inning game against Lambuth University in the Mid-South Conference tournament in 2005. This broke the record as the longest NAIA game in history.

Rafael Marciano

Rafael, senior Bear, is from Caguas, Puerto Rico. He attended Lakeland College in Mattoon, Illinois. Lakeland is a junior college where he played a year of baseball.

Back home in Puerto Rico, Marciano has played on two different summer league teams. He plays for the Caguas Sub 21 team who finished third in the yearly tournament. He also plays for the class A team Roosevelt.

Marciano had a career high season for the Bears in 2005. He finished with a .327 batting average, and had 56 hits with 16 doubles. This earned Marciano All Conference First Team honors.

"It has been a long hard road in which I've found a lot of great memories that I will always carry with me," he said.

Those who are fashionable wear ballet slippers.

Designer handbags can be seen on the shoulder of many girls on campus.

Christy Hopkins sports 2005's hottest trend: oversized shades.

You're nobody without a wristband.

You can find a tattoo on almost all PC students.

Jessica Mullins' rain boots are sure to brighten up a rainy day.

There's nothing trashy about holes in your jeans these days. They're in style!

The 80's are back, high heels and all.

Angie Tackett looks very fashionable in her blazer, one of this year's hottest trends.

Class of 2005

Pikeville College School of Osteopathic Medicine

Class of 2005

Thanks for the Memories . . .

We did it! Pikeville College produced a yearbook on time -- for the first time in three years! The yearbook is a permanent record of the year, and I hope you've enjoyed looking through the Highlander 2005, a "scrapbook" of the year's events, people, and activities. Putting together this book was not an easy task, especially given the shadow of the past couple of years. However, I enlisted the aid of many wonderful people, and step by step, they helped me to make this book a reality.

I would like to thank Dean Campbell (for giving the yearbook another chance); the Public Affairs office who arranged all of the portraits; Stephanie Stiltner who went above the call of duty in helping the staff gather many photos and names; Brigitte LaPresto for her support and encouragement; PCIT (all of the guys were extremely helpful this year to make sure we had the technological resources we needed); Billy, the new Josten's rep who was very kind and helpful; and especially my daughter Amanda Mae for staying many extra hours in the computer lab.

Finally, special gratitude to all of the students who enrolled in the yearbook courses this year and committed to what some believed to be an impossible task. I know it can seem chaotic at times and getting everything together is not easy, but all of the hard work and long hours are worth it when you look through the book 20 years from now.

Thanks to: Misti Dixon, Michelle Blankenship, Natasha Coleman, Chad Roberts, Alison Blackburn, Kayla Chapman, Shane Coyles, April Ellis, Larry Forester, Robert Potts, Chris Stoff, Brandi Webb, Tonya Amburgey, Antwan Brown, Jennifer Bunch, Kayla Bunch, Ashley Day, Amanda Fields, Autumn Fleming, Jermaine Hampton, Jordan Keene, Adam Lesshaft, Rachel Little, Antwan Marsh, Heather McPeck, Leonard Moore, Misty Ramey, Big Show Silas, Matt Stephens, Abbi Stolarz, Mike Sturgill, and Cathy York. Extended gratitude to Abbi Stolarz, Autumn Fleming, Amanda Fields, and Kayla Chapman for completing extra assignments and working extra hours!
